

IMPORTANT CHURCH YARD HEALTH and SAFETY NOTICE

All Saints' PCC has recently commissioned a safety inspection of all the memorial stones within the Church Yard.

Despite the majority being considered safe, there are a few which have been deemed unsafe. All unsafe memorials have been recorded and photographed as a part of the safety inspection process. If the grave memorial you are visiting today is marked with a RED TAPE, the memorial has failed the safety inspection.

As owners of the memorial stone, we have to point out that you are primarily responsible to ensure that the memorial stone is made safe to comply with Health and Safety regulations. So we advise that you contact the Stonemasons who installed the memorial stone for further advice regarding making it safe.

Should damage or injury occur after you have been informed of the need to make the memorial stone safe, then it is our understanding that you will be held responsible.